

Dependence asymmetry is associated with protection from alliance termination

